

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

August 1, 2014

United Group, Inc. and RECARO Automotive Seating North America announce exclusive office chair partnership.

Lake Forest, IL – Effective immediately, United Group, Inc. has been selected by RECARO Automotive Seating as the exclusive licensee of RECARO office chair products in North America.

United Group, Inc. has more than 25 years of experience in the industrial and office chair industries and is known for their expertise developing 24/7 intensive use office chairs. RECARO was established in 1906 in Stuttgart, Germany and has positioned themselves as a global provider of premier automotive, office and aircraft seating plus child safety products. Bringing the companies together provides the end user a premium RECARO office product backed with the knowledge and expertise that United Group, Inc. offers.

Similar to the 2013 RECARO product line that United Group, Inc. offered, the 2014 product line will consist of two series. The first being the RECARO Performance Series, which has styling inspired from the performance automotive market that RECARO Automotive Seating proudly serves. Models in the Performance Series include the Sport, Sportster CS, and Style. The RECARO Advantage Series offers the legendary office chair styling designed for 24/7 intensive use. Models in the Advantage Series include the Specialist, EX II, Executive, Commander and Titan.

New armrest options add to the products' adaptability. All 2014 RECARO office products now offer the choice of 2D or 4D armrests. 2D armrests offer the user adjustability in two areas, width and height. 4D armrests offer the greatest range of adjustments. These armrests adjust up, down, in and out. In addition, the top armrest pad can adjust forward, backward and articulate 360 degrees.

United Group, Inc. is extremely excited for this partnership. United Group's RECARO office products offer the end user the legendary RECARO comfort and performance. All products are backed by our industry leading warranty.
